 - b. Problems and solutions being considered
 - c. Progress on goals
 4. The host convention committee is responsible for planning the entire program of the convention. Have regular meetings of the Host Committee more frequently as you get closer.

(Every convention committee feels tired and let down afterwards. They have worked so hard together for so long and now "What do we do?" Find a new project and you will feel better sooner. Thanks for your fantastic work.)

The committee includes:

- a. Chairman and co-chairman
 1. Planning of the whole convention through committees
 2. Schedule of convention sessions
 3. Ask the past convention host (and the ILDA Secretary) for help.
 4. If possible have meetings with chairmen of the past two conventions.
 5. Make sure you, the host chairman, attends the previous convention and works with that Host Committee.
- b. Pastor and assistants

The ILDA pastoral advisor is responsible to advise and help with these activities:

 - 1) Sunday worship and devotions
 - 2) Workshops and/or Bible study

The host pastor shall plan a two (2) hour mission focused workshops on Saturday afternoon. He shall select the leaders(s).

 - 3) Devotion leaders
 - a) The host committee shall be responsible for enlisting the convention devotion leaders, and shall ask them at least ninety (90) days prior to a convention. Please coordinate these devotions with the theme and each other.

- b) The devotion leaders will open and close all meetings and social functions.
 - c) The host committee shall offer a monetary honorarium to the devotion leaders and/or preachers.
- 4) Worship Service at the End of a Convention
- a) The host congregation will be in charge of arrangements for the convention's final worship service (Sunday).
 - b) The host pastor, assisted by the pastoral advisor, may enlist any number of the regional pastors in attendance to take part in this final worship service which always includes Holy Communion. The host committee shall ask the host congregation's voter's assembly to authorize this service.
 - c) Near the end of this final Sunday worship service, the pastoral advisor will install the new ILDA officers.
 - d) Any and all offerings collected at an ILDA biennial convention shall be deposited into the ILDA treasury and used to meet our Mission Project goals that had been voted on at the convention.
- c. Tasks that are part of committee activities.
- These tasks might have a separate committee chairman for each task or might be grouped together under one or more persons. Members of other deaf churches in the same region might also be asked to serve.
- 1) Secretary
 - 2) Treasurer
 - 3) Hotel and meeting rooms
 - a) You are responsible to provide appropriate and adequate facilities for:
 - (1) the Actual convention
 - (2) the Board meeting before the convention
 - (3) the God's 1000 Club meeting and dinner
 - (4) Ephphatha Conference
 - b) Communicate regularly (in writing) with the hotel staff.
 - c) Be careful about changes in Hotel's Convention staff and their verbal promises.
 - d) Be careful about Contracts: who signs, cost of extras, sliding scale.
 - e) Be careful about the "sliding scale" and "block of rooms." This says if you use enough sleeping rooms, the meeting rooms are free. If you do not use enough sleeping rooms, they get to bill you for the meeting rooms.
 - f) Have the LCMS Meeting Planner give advice prior to signing a contract about hotels, and other contracts. Contact the LDMS Director and the ILDA Pastor Advisor.
 - g) Understand local union rules and their requirements at the hotel. Many times the bill may be much higher because of the requirement that a union person be there all day and evening just in case you need something (lights, sound, etc.).
 - h) Watch the menus and their cost. Settle as early as possible.

- i) Agree with the cost of coffee breaks.
 - j) See if there is an extra cost for parking and plan how to pay for it.
 - k) Be extra careful about late requests for equipment. They will cost (a lot extra).
 - l) Test video (and real time captioning) equipment beforehand.
 - m) Test lights and lines of vision beforehand. Most hotels have never worked with a group of deaf people and do not understand the need for the ability to clearly see.
 - n) Determine the use of “complimentary rooms” (and what they will cost if you do not use enough sleeping rooms. Possible uses of these rooms are for: the President, the host committee, Board meetings, etc.
 - o) Determine the time for room check in. If it is late (3pm?) tell the people before they come so that they will not have to wait so long.
 - p) Determine if there is a large convention just before ours which might not leave on time.
 - q) Do not consider doing hotel registration and payment for hotel rooms through the Host Committee. That will bring you much extra work.
- 4) Fund raising
The entire pre-convention part of the funds must be raised by you. Get partner deaf churches (perhaps from your region) to help you.
- 5) Publicity and photography (See Section K)
- a) It is extremely important that you have good publicity early. Send regular articles to The Deaf Lutheran for at least two years before your convention.
 - b) The Convention Book is very important. Study copies of former conventions to see about content. Talk to the St. Louis host committee for a novel idea about printing it.
- 6) The banquet and its program: You have the right to determine what kind of entertainment will occur during the banquet. Historically we have had entertainers, inspirational speakers or dramas. Please make sure that the banquet and its entertainment concludes by 10:00 p.m. Costs for this activity are part of the convention fund.
- 7) Child care
- a) Plan activities for the pre-teen children during the various business sessions. Have parents agree to bring their child(ren) and leave them for the full time of each session.
 - b) Unless you are going to use pre-convention monies, this is not part of the convention fees and parents should pay appropriately for this.
 - c) Parents must sign a liability waiver form.
- 8) Contests, banners, skits, choirs, etc.
Historically ILDA has conducted competitions involving banners, skits and choirs. You are encouraged, but not required, to do this. You would advertise for participants, select the judges and provide appropriate awards paid for by the convention fund.

- 9) Interpreters, video and captioning
 - a) The host committee shall be responsible for selecting convention interpreters and reimbursing them for their services.
 - b) It is recommended that a Head Interpreter be chosen to delegate interpreting duties.
 - c) Choose interpreters who have some knowledge of religious signs. Interpreters need might include: ASL, Reverse, Special (for people with vision limitations) and oral.
 - d) One way to save money on multiple interpreters is to have one or two large projection video screens in appropriate parts of the meeting room and a video camera photographing the main interpreter.
 - e) The host committee might use real time captioners.
 - 10) Junior ILDA

Jr. ILDA's purpose and functions is still very vague (attendance at St. Louis 21 hearing and 1 deaf) (Cleveland '99 had more!) Is its purpose to start a new organization or a child care event for teenage children? What should it cost the parents?
 - 11) Registrar (See Section H)

Attached is a printed copy of the registration form, a sample registration spreadsheet program, sample badges with appropriate colors and event icons.
 - 12) Tours, transportation and local events:

Historically Friday afternoon has been set aside for a tour of some place nearby. Transportation includes traveling to and from the airport for the Board, the convention guests and Ephphatha Conference plus any tours for the convention or Jr. ILDA.
5. The convention host shall inform the ILDA president and secretary of the convention theme at least two (2) years prior to the convention. The host chairman will be responsible for getting this information to the editor of The Deaf Lutheran.
 6. The highlights and items of main interest of the convention shall be sent to the editors of The Deaf Lutheran for publication immediately after the convention by the host committee chairman.
 7. The convention chairman should enlist the services of a member of his/her congregation or region who has some experience with photography and who has a good camera. The volunteer photographer will be reimbursed for film and cost of development out of convention receipts. But he/she must give the receipts for costs before he/she can be paid.
 8. The host committee is to submit a full written report (program and financial) to the ILDA Board of Directors six (6) months after the close of the convention. A copy of this report will be kept in a convention planning file and made available to future host convention committees. A copy of this report will be sent to the ILDA Historian.

Section E – Financing ILDA Convention

The ILDA has become a self-supporting organization. There is no subsidy support. Therefore, the main source of its operating income must come from pre-convention proceeds.

1. The local host committee is encouraged to establish two accounts (perhaps in one fund):
 - a. Pre-convention Account
 - 1) The host committee (with possible support from its region) should have fund-raising activities for payment of pre-convention expenses. (In 1997, almost $22,000 was raised. Much of this money was used to lower registration costs.). These monies are to be used for committee expenses before the convention, publicity, hotel and other deposits. This pre-convention account can also be used to reduce registration expenses but can also be held in reserve should expenses exceed registration receipts. (Reasonable special celebrations, parties or dinners for the host committee shall be part of this account.)
 - 2) Distribution of monies remaining in the pre-convention account (after all convention expenses have been paid) is left to the discretion of the host committee. The host committee is encouraged to donate part or all of the remaining pre-convention monies to the ILDA treasury.
 - 3) Loans may be granted from the ILDA general fund to the host committee to meet pre-convention expenses. Such loans must be repaid within thirty (30) days after the close of a convention.
 - b. Convention Registration Account

 - 2) All monies remaining in the convention registration account after all convention expenses have been paid will be sent to the ILDA general fund.
 - 3) Monies in the convention registration account shall not be used to reimburse or pay any bills related to pre-convention expenses.
 - 4) Any and all offerings collected at an ILDA biennial convention shall be deposited into the ILDA treasury and used to meet our Mission Project goals that had been voted on at the convention.
2. The host committee is required to submit a complete financial statement to the ILDA on both pre-convention and convention income and expenditures within six (6) months after the close of a convention. Such reports will be sent to the ILDA secretary and treasurer and made available at the next meeting of the Board of Directors.

HISTORY OF THE HANDBOOK

Before the conclusion of the 1987 International Lutheran Deaf Association's biennial convention at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a task force was commissioned by President Lester Ahls to develop and print a Handbook.

One purpose of this Handbook is to provide official guidelines which will assist the ILDA convention chairmen and their subordinate committee chairmen in preparation for a fruitful ILDA convention. This Handbook should also assist the ILDA Board of Directors in the fulfillment of their duty in overseeing the preparation of conventions.

Members of this Task Force/Handbook Committee were: Lester Ahls, Ron Byington, Beth Firnhaber-Lockard, Rev. Ron E. Friedrich, Rev. Shirrel Petzoldt, Rev. Rodney Rynearson and Archie D. Marshall, Chairman. Thanks to the ILDA historian, Donald Mowl, for his valuable input. Special thanks to Pastor Rynearson's secretary, Sandi Green, for all her work in preparing and printing this draft.

The Handbook Committee met three times before finishing this assignment. Their first meeting was held on November 6-7, 1987, the second on October 14-17, 1988, and the final meeting was held on February 17-20, 1989. All meetings took place in Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, MO.

As brothers and sisters in Christ we live under grace and are ruled by the Gospel; and as children of Christ we seek to live and work together in obeying Jesus' command. This command encourages us to spread the Gospel which is the Good News to all nations. Our goal is also to reach out to all deaf and hearing-impaired individuals and communities throughout the world. Therefore, we voluntarily enter into agreement with one another in the spirit of putting together this Handbook in order to reach our goals.

ADDITIONAL NOTES:

Red cover handbook was published in June 1999. The handbook's computer word file was submitted to The Deaf Lutheran editor in 1999 for occasional prints in the newsletters.

(December 2000) David G. Brown, The Deaf Lutheran editor, has been working with Rev. Ron Friedrich in getting this handbook published on ILDA's and LCMS's website.
